Cupping Therapy Massage

Massage Cupping Therapy is a unique blend of ancient Asian Cupping techniques with western massage applications. Massage, or the use of glass cups held by suction to massage the body can be used to treat myriad of ailments through suction and negative pressure, this therapy is an excellent way of relieving common colds and flu, muscular aches and pains, tension and can also be used to break up cellulite. Massage Cupping Therapy activates the lymphatic system, allowing the bodies tissues to be drain of toxins. It can also help release rigid soft tissue, drain excess fluids & toxins, loosen adhesions and can lift connective tissue, while replenishing blood flow to stagnant skin and muscles.....$100
